

INDIGNATION MEETING HELD

"Duped Daughters of Dorothy" Met Last Night to Confer With Officials

GIRL RECEIVES A LETTER

Typewriter Company Disavows all Connection With Wisdom—Misrepresented Facts

The "Duped Daughters of Dorothy" met last night at the offices of Megee & Kiplinger at the instigation of the officials of the Smith Premier Typewriter company. The company wished to make themselves right with the students who were taken in by the wily teacher of stenography in this city.

Frank M. Evans, assistant secretary to the president of the company came here from Syracuse, N. Y., where the home office is located, to talk the matter over with the students. To begin with Mr. Evans said that he wished to disavow all connection with Miss Wisdom, and said he wanted it distinctly understood that they never did have anything to do with such parties, other than they tried to place students for any honorable school or teacher, but only students who were competent.

Mr. Evans is a very polished gentleman, and is a thorough business man, as evidenced by the high position he holds. He talked to the students, giving them a bit of "motherly" advice, which if they take to heart will prove more valuable than the money paid for tuition. He told them if they cared to go ahead with their studies, and if at any time they felt competent to fill positions, that there was one of their branch offices in Indianapolis which had an employment bureau in connection with the business office, and they made it a point to secure positions.

That Miss Wisdom surely possessed a finely tempered brand of nerve was proven when one of the students said last night that she had received a letter from Indianapolis from fair Dorothy since she had been released from the Paris, Illinois, jail.

Mr. Evans was accompanied to this city by Roy H. Jarrett, State agent of the typewriting concern, and when they learned that Miss Wisdom was in Indianapolis they left on the next train and will try and locate her today.

All the offices throughout the country have been warned to be on the lookout for Miss Wisdom, and to escape the wrath of the typewriter company, the clever "stenog" better sign articles with some blacksmith in an out-of-way hamlet and take his dictations.

TIS SOMETHING TO BLOW ABOUT

Stumps—Wooden, Not Cigars—Will be Blown into Toothpicks

If you hear a noise next Monday afternoon like the battling of Manila, do not become alarmed and rush for your blunderbuss, preparing to defend yourself. For it is only the gentle blast of the "stump blower." A demonstration of the "power behind the dynamite" will be given on the old Mart Lewark farm, two miles and a half north of this city. Trees and stumps three feet in diameter will be blown into toothpicks. Joseph Parish will be master of ceremonies and Alpheus Taylor will do the heavy work. "Everybody invited."

Hutch Insais, of Milroy, was here today on business.

Clifford Lee, of the Indianapolis Star, was here today.

Sam Ardery, of Greensburg, is the guest of Rich Reed.

John Quirk, of Indianapolis, is here to spend the holidays with relatives.

and Bailey, of Indianapolis, are visiting relatives and

HIS AUTO—BIOGRAPHY

Congressman Landis Does His in Less than Six Lines—Watson's "Life Story."

In the new Congressional Directory, which is just out, Representative Fred Landis consumes less space than any other member of Congress from Indiana. The rule is that each congressman is his own biographer, and Fred probably on the theory that the youngest should be the most modest, has less to say about himself than any other Hoosier member. His autobiography occupies only five and a half lines. Congressman Watson tells his "story" in fifteen lines.

THE DECISION WAS REVERSED

Case of Furgeson vs. Boyd Reversed in Appellate Court Yesterday

The decision of the Rush circuit court in the case of Horton J. Furgeson vs. James A. Boyd was reversed in the Appellate court Friday by Judge Wiley.

The following are the paragraph answers: (1) Where contracts executed contemporaneously with a warranty deed show that it was executed as mere security for a loan, the rule applies that "once a mortgage always a mortgage."

(2) Contemporaneous construction of a deed by the parties as a mere security, persisted in for several years will be followed by the courts as against any ambiguous or indefinite showing that it evidenced a conditional sale. (3) Where the grantee was put in possession four years after he had been given a deed executed as a mere surety, and at the same time of giving possession it was orally agreed that he should hold possession until the profits paid his debt, the grantor is entitled to an accounting on demand.

WILL MAKE A DELIVERY TUESDAY

Rural Route Carrier Will Go as Usual Christmas Morning

The general impression prevalent is that the rural route men will be permitted to enjoy the Christmas holiday, but such is not true for on that day they will make their usual daily delivery. However, on New Year's day they will not have to make any delivery.

Christmas day will prove their Jonah; day, and the work is the heaviest of any day in the year. Christmas is the only holiday that these men fail to observe. As the mail is so heavy that they have to deliver it that day or they would be completely swamped the next.

The day before Christmas and Christmas day will be busy ones for the carriers. Patrons of the various rural routes will load their boxes with all imaginable things to eat, and the carriers will return with a magnificent Christmas feast.

There are two days in the year when rural carriers live high. These are Thanksgiving and Christmas. Blessed with an abundance of all manner of good things the farmers remember their carriers and bring joy and good cheer into several homes by their good heartedness. Last year one carrier received three chickens, a dress for his wife and lost count of the pumpkins, apples and other fruit. All the carriers are remembered in some way by their patrons.

"KUHN" WILL ENTERTAIN A "REGULAR" CHINAMAN

Pang Hong, the young Chinese student whom the Rev. T. H. Kuhn, tutored and at one time was active in obtaining his release from the immigration laws, when the young man had left the United States, and was refused re-admittance when he returned, will arrive in Richmond Sunday, to spend several days as the guest of his former instructor.

CORN WIZARDS STIR UP THINGS

Experts Will Cover All the Pennsylvania Mileage in this State

WILL VISIT IN 165 CITIES

T. A. Coleman of this County, Will be One of the Experts Who Will "Exhort"

According to the schedule of the seed corn train, to be run over the entire Pennsylvania mileage in Indiana, made public yesterday, says a morning paper, the corn wizards will visit 165 Indiana towns and villages between February 25th and March 13th. This is the greatest task of this character ever assumed in any State, the longest trip ever scheduled in Iowa, where so much has been accomplished by this method, being only two weeks.

"We are going to stir things up during those fifteen days," said Prof. G. I. Christie of the Purdue Experiment Station, who was in town yesterday. "We are going to be able to visit all sections of the State and it is our intention to present in even a more convincing manner than in the past if possible the gospel of good seed corn and carry home to the growers the great need of more intelligent selection and care. Indiana is waking up to the importance of this matter in a way that is going to tell in a material way in a short time. Three lecturers will be heard at each of the stops. We are preparing some convincing charts and a liberal supply of station literature will be distributed."

During the fifteen days that they are out the corn men will live on the train, the Pennsylvania supplying a dining car, a baggage car and a sleeper. It is the intention to hold large meetings each night. In the party will be Prof. Christie, D. F. Maish, of Frankfort, president of the Indiana Corn Growers' Association; C. B. Benjamin, of Leroy, member State Board of Agriculture; T. A. Coleman, of Rushville, and J. P. Davis, of Sheridan.

The special will be in Rushville March 6th, and will "sidetrack" here for the night when a night session will probably be arranged.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT IN THE LAUREL SAW MILLS

Young Man Comes in Contact With Saw and is Almost Cut in Two

Bert Raridan, a young man about twenty years of age, who was employed at Meeks' saw mill, at Laurel, was running a cut off saw Thursday afternoon when the chain broke allowing the saw to slip forward and cut a horrible gas across the abdomen. The wound was four inches long and the teeth of the saw had deeply penetrated the flesh to the intestines.

The young man lived several hours after the accident occurred and for a while it was believed he would recover, but complications arose from the wound and he died Thursday night.

Dr. J. C. Sexton, of this city was called to Laurel in consultation with the physicians there, but their labors proved in vain, and the young man died in great agony.

Young Raridan was a brother of Frank Raridan, who was killed by a freight train two years ago near Brookville.

GOT GOOD GAS AT CITY OF GWYNNEVILLE

The Blue River Natural Gas Company brought in a good well at Gwynneville, this week. This is the company composed of about 40 farmers north east of town organized several years ago to procure gas for their own use. The drill struck a flow of fuel that burned 15 feet in the air when lighted, after penetrating the gas bearing rock 8 feet.

LONG TALK FOR "NICKLE"

"If a Man Can Get Pittsburg in Twenty Minutes How Long Will it Take etc."

The St. Paul (Indiana) Telegram has startling headlines over the following article labeled "A Long Talk": "Mr. Nichols, of Rushville, who is connected with the building of the I. & S. E. traction line from Shelbyville to Greensburg, was here Friday and through the I. D. Jewett exchange and connections with the Bell through Greensburg, he telephoned an order to F. M. F. Rohrer, in the office of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co.'s office at Pittsburg, Pa.

"In just 20 minutes from the time he put in his call he was connected with his party at Pittsburg and the conversation was carried on in an ordinary tone of voice being heard and understood as plainly as if they were seated in the room talking with each other."

SUPERSTITIOUS WILL ENJOY XMAS

An old proverb says that "green Christmas makes a fat churchyard," and as most people accept a proverb as if it were indisputably true, it should be said that there is no truth whatever in the particular saying. No warrant is found for it in statistics, and the very fact that people whose health is below the average are advised by physicians to seek a mild climate in winter, should show others that when the Christmas holidays are mild and pleasant they should not be oppressed with any unusual dread of impending death. It is much more likely that old ladies who dwell in a world of proverbs will come to grief than that undertakers will have any special reason to rejoice.

But we are to have a "white Christmas," and everybody will be happy—including the superstitious.

DEATHS

M. B. Rardon, of Milroy, died very suddenly Friday of pneumonia, after a few days' sickness. He was an old resident of Milroy, having been born and raised there. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon. He left no family, but a great many relatives.

LIBERTY GETS A XMAS GIFT

President Henry Notifies Them that Line Will be Constructed

THE CITIZENS ARE HAPPY

I. & C. Traction Line Will be Extended East as Soon as Weather Permits

"Liberty loving folks" are extremely happy in the fact that President Charles L. Henry will assure them with official documents—they will be received in the way of a Christmas gift—that the I. & C. will be run through their city.

Listen to the happy Christmas carol of the Liberty Herald:

"What the Herald exclusively announced as a certainty in the issue of September 27th, has now become official and the climax of all activity and anticipations is now reached. The Indianapolis & Cincinnati traction road directors, at their recent meeting, decided finally to build to Cincinnati from Connersville by the Liberty route and Dr. E. R. Beard, the chairman of the right of way committee, will receive a typewritten account of the action, after being notified by 'phone. Mr. Henry's letter had not yet been received this morning, but it is not needed to assure the people of Liberty that the road is now a certainty.

"As our readers have known the Herald has been optimistic from the start upon our ultimate success, and now we hand the fact of the coming to our readers here as a Christmas gift.

CHURCH OPENED IN OLD SALOON

"Moral Electric Wave" Transmitted at an Extremely High Voltage

The "moral electric wave" which is transmitted over the tension wire from this city to Shelbyville—and way stations—is being felt.

First their Democratic representative comes out for a $100 liquor license—no my child, he did not apply for one, but he stands for high license.

Then following this is the startling announcement of the proposed converting of the old "Shorty" Goodrich saloon rooms into a temple of worship, where pure religion and undefiled can be obtained without money or without price.

Shelbyville is not only getting better, but it is now convalescent and able to "sit up" part of the time.

PACK XMAS PRESENTS WELL FOR MAILING

It is Permissible to Put "Merry Xmas" "Greeting" Etc. On Packages

In sending Christmas presents you should pack well, wrap securely and plainly address it with ink. The name and address of the sender should be placed on the package, so if it is undeliverable or the addresses not to be found, it will be returned to the sender if the article is first class without additional postage; if it is second, third or fourth class the sender will be notified by the postmaster from the city in which the parcel is, and postage can be sent for it. By doing this it would save many Christmas presents from being sent to the dead letter office at Washington. It is permissible to put in a package "Greetings," "Merry Christmas," and a "Happy New Year;" and if several articles are in the package and they are intended for different persons of the family, the name and address of the sender, and still it will not be classed as first class mail, but may be sent as merchandise.

—Donald Stackhouse, of Indianapolis, is the guest of his friends in this city.

THE ORIGIN OF OUR CHRISTMAS

Tradition Accredits Apostle John With Having Inaugurated the Feast

FORMERLY MOVABLE FEAST

Santa Claus Was Introduced into America by the Dutch of Holland

I heard the bells on Christmas day Their old, familiar carols play, And wild and sweet The words repeat Of peace on earth, good will to men! —Longfellow.

The celebration of Christmas as a special festival is said to have begun in the first century, and during the life of the Apostle John one tradition of the church accredits him with inaugurating the custom.

In England the Christmas decorations may remain in the churches during the month of January, but must all be cleared away before February 2, or Candlemas day.

In France it is a common practice to celebrate Christmas by giving an extra ration to all domestic animals on the theory that all creatures should rejoice at this season.

In the fourth century, the celebration of Christmas was fixed by the Latin church for December 25. Before that time it had been a movable festival, like Easter.

Santa Claus was introduced into America by the Dutch of Holland. He is the American representation of the German Knecht Rupert.

Among the English common people Christmas is lucky when Saturday is the day of the Nativity.

Christmas mince pies in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries were made with a coffin-shaped crust, to represent the manger.

In Silesia there is a superstition that a boy born on Christmas day must be brought up [a lawyer, or he will become a thief. (He may be both.)

In all the States Christmas is a legal holiday, and in South Carolina the two following days are also holidays.

The leaves proper to use in Christmas decorations are those of holly, mistletoe, laurel and rosemary.

In Spain it is believed by the common people that the ants hold religious services on Christmas day.

The Eastern church formerly observed Christmas on January 6th.

In old England, Plum porridge was always served with the first course of a Christmas dinner.

The custom of giving presents on Christmas day is general throughout the Christian world.

James Whitcomb Riley says of Christmas:

A word of Godspeed, and good cheer. To all on earth, or far or near, Or friend or foe, or thine or mine In echo of the voice Divine Heard, when the star bloomed forth and lit The world's face, with God's smile on it.

And then we have Mark Twain, God bless his cheerful old soul, who gives up the following words of Christmas cheer:

"It is my heart-warm and world embracing hope and aspiration that all of us—the high, the low, the rich, the poor, the admired, the despised, the loved, the hated, the civilized, the savage—may eventually be gathered together in heaven of ever lasting rest, and peace, and bliss, except the inventor of the telephone.

TEMPERANCE LEGISLATION

Will Be Strongly Urged by the Anti-Saloon League.

Indianapolis, Ind., December 22.—Superintendent U. G. Humphreys of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League predicts that the coming session of the legislature will enact a county and city remonstrance law unless the two big party organizations "lay down" on their members and keep them from voting their sentiments. The league is perfecting a strong organization for the legislature and has better backing than two years ago, when it obtained the Moore amendment to the Nicholson law providing for a township and city ward blanket remonstrance. It is realized now by Humphreys and his associates that many of the party leaders are opposed to their program through fear that it is too dangerous to handle on the eve of a national campaign, but they will make a determined effort to win. That the sentiment in favor of increased remonstrance power is growing at a rapid pace and that members of the legislature are being told by their constituents that they will be held responsible if the proposed county remonstrance plan fails, was the statement of Humphreys, who is in closer touch with the situation than any other man on the temperance side of the question. He said that they will not introduce a new bill on the remonstrance question, but will offer a short amendment inserting the word "county," so that a majority of the voters will be able to say whether or not there shall be any saloons in their community. The "blind tiger" bill the league has prepared makes it prima facie evidence that a man is conducting a retail liquor business if he has a government license. The bill contains a "search and seizure" clause giving an officer power to search a place where he believes liquor is being sold illegally, and to confiscate all liquor found there. There will also be provision against so-called wholesale liquor houses doing business in territory where saloons have been driven out by remonstrance. The penalty for the first violation will be a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100; for the second offense, a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, to which shall be added imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than thirty days nor more than six months.

The supreme court has held that the selling of liquor to consumers in quantities of more than five gallons is not a violation of the Nicholson law, even if the person offering the liquor for sale has no county license. The decision was in the case of Herman Bock of Gibson county, who was convicted of violating the law on the charge that he sold a five-gallon keg of beer without retail license. The court held that it was not the intent of the legislature to forbid everybody but licensed retail liquor dealers to sell liquor in large quantities, especially as one section of the statute expressly exempts wholesalers from the necessity of obtaining license. The statute urged that the sale of liquor in five-gallon quantities by Bock was a violation of that part of the law intending to do away with "quart-shops," but the court said that the opportunities which were formerly afforded for violating the law by persons selling by the quart are not afforded to the unlicensed dealer, who is prohibited from selling to the consumer less than five gallons at a time.

BRYCE IS COMING

Prominent British Statesman Will Be Ambassador at Washington.

IT IS NOW ADMITTED

What Had Been Held as Foregone Conclusion Is Now Acknowledged by the New Ambassador.

Sir Mortimer Durand Has Presented His Letter of Recall and Will Sail Next Week.

London, Dec. 22.—The appointment of James Bryce to be ambassador at Washington in succession to Sir Mortimer Durand, is now admitted by Mr. Bryce himself.

The cabinet held a special session preliminary to the prorogation of parliament for the holidays. The session will be resumed the middle of February. The announcement of the selection of James Bryce to succeed Sir Mortimer Durand as British ambassador at Washington will be followed by a considerable readjustment of the cabinet with the view of preventing an aggressive front when the parliamentary session is resumed in February. It is expected Mr. Bryce will go to America to take up his new mission late in February or early in March.

A Notable Career.

Mr. Bryce is one of the foremost statesmen in England. His selection is attributed to the importance given the American mission by those at the head of the government.

Mr. Bryce is sixty-eight years of age. He was born in Belfast on May 10, 1838. His father was the Rev. James Bryce, a clergyman of the established church. His preparatory education was in the high school and University of Edinburgh. Later he entered Trinity college, Oxford, from which he was graduated in 1862 with the degree of B. A., and in 1870 with the degree of D. C. L. At the end of his term he was elected a fellow of Oriel college. His career in Oxford was notable and he finished as an honor man. He practiced law from 1867 until 1882. He was appointed regius professor of civil law at Oxford in 1870, and retained that position until 1893.

In 1879 he first entered politics as a Liberal and went to the house of commons in the following year. His work in the house was eminently successful and he proved to be a leader, securing the passage of many important measures. While a member of the house he declined to accept the important post of legal adviser to the Council of India. In 1885 he was secretary of state for foreign affairs, and in that year he was made chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, with a seat in the cabinet. He held that post until 1892. Three years later he was a member of the board of trade, but became unpopular as a result of his opposition to government concessions for lighting and railways.

In 1894 he was chairman of the royal commission on secondary education, and was made a fellow of the Royal Society in the same year. He married Miss Elizabeth Marion Ash-ton of Fordbank, Manchester, in 1889. He is the author of many important works, including "The American Commonwealth," and holds degrees from a number of universities, among them the University of Michigan, and is also a member of various royal academies and institutes and historical societies.

READY TO DEPART

Sir Mortimer and Lady Durand Will Sail Next Week.

Washington, Dec. 22.—Sir Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador, last evening presented his letter of recall. He and Lady Durand will sail for England on Dec. 29. The British ambassador presented to the president, Mr. Esme Howard, the new secretary, who will act as charge pending the arrival of Mr. Bryce, the newly selected ambassador.

Records Do Not Bear Out Statement Regarding Sixtieth Ohio.

Columbus, O., Dec. 22.—"The muster out rolls in the adjutant general's office at Columbus, O., copies of which were furnished by the war department, show this regiment to have been mustered out and honorably discharged on Nov. 10, 1863, at Chicago, Ill."

This is the concluding paragraph of a statement issued by Adjutant General Critchfield in reply to numerous queries concerning the record of the Sixtieth Ohio volunteer infantry, which has recently been called into controversy. Adjutant General Critchfield declares: "It is a mystery on what authority the statement has been made that this regiment was discharged because it was disorganized, mutinous and worthless."

The Sixtieth Ohio was organized, according to Adjutant General Critchfield's statement, on Feb. 25, 1862, and mustered into service on April 27 the same year. It served in West Virginia and Maryland until its capture at Harpers Ferry on Sept. 15, 1862. The members were paroled as prisoners and marched to Annapolis and from there transported by rail to Camp Douglas, Chicago, along with 4,000 other men.

"While in this detention camp," General Critchfield says, "much dissatisfaction arose, as the men were idle and unarmed, but nothing serious occurred except the destruction of some property consisting of barracks and lumber. This matter was investigated by a board of survey, which found that $2,169.65 had been destroyed and should be charged to 4,652 men of thirteen different organizations from five states, and the report was made twenty-seven days after the Sixtieth regiment had been mustered out." General Critchfield quotes from the official records of the rebellion to show that the regiment had been commended for bravery on three different occasions.

In the appendix to the president's recent message regarding the discharge of the negro troops at Fort Brown are cited several instances of summary discharge of troops as precedent for the president's action. Among these instances is the following: "The Sixtieth Regiment Ohio Infantry Volunteers was summarily discharged on Nov. 10, 1862, pursuant to a telegram from the war department, because the regiment was disorganized, mutinous and worthless."

THE ROPE BROKE

Public Execution in Missouri Turns Out a Horrible Affair.

Houston, Mo., Dec. 22.—The execution here of Joda Hamilton, the twenty year old farmer boy, for the murder of five members of the family of Barney Parsons, a farmer, was a horrible affair. Two attempts were necessary before the hanging proved successful. The first rope broke.

With the first attempt Hamilton shot through the trap with a jerk and the spectators were horrified to see the rope part. Hamilton dropped to the ground and lay there writhing in pain.

Partially conscious he was picked up and carried a second time to the scaffold. The rope was hurriedly placed about the boy's neck and five minutes after the first attempt the trap was again sprung. This time it was successful. The attending physician expressed the belief that Hamilton was fatally injured by the first fall and died before he dropped the second time. The body was turned over to Hamilton's father.

Now Under Double Sentence.

JUDGE'S CLOSE CALL

Probably Demented Man Attacked Judge Cutting at Chicago.

Chicago, Dec. 22.—An attempt was made to assassinate Judge Charles S. Cutting of the probate court, by Frank F. Ellerbrock. The would-be assassin is believed to be insane. Judge Cutting overpowered his assailant after a fierce fight.

As the judge entered the criminal court building on his way to his chambers, Ellerbrock, who was standing in the hallway, stepped forward and when only two feet distant drew a revolver and fired pointblank at the judge. Judge Cutting instantly turned and struck his assailant a heavy blow in the face, almost knocking him down. Before Ellerbrock could recover, Judge Cutting grabbed him by the throat and threw him backward over a steam radiator, where he held him, despite his desperate efforts to escape. Deputy sheriffs who had heard the shot hastened to the assistance of Judge Cutting. Ellerbrock has frequently been about the probate court, and for some time has labored under the hallucination that he had been deprived of his rights to a share in the estate of his sister, who died several years ago.

Officers Offered No Resistance.

Annapolis, Md., Dec. 22.—A mob of twenty-five or thirty men broke down the door of the Annapolis jail and lynched Henry Davis, a negro, who criminally assaulted Mrs. John Reid near Iglehart's station Friday. Davis confessed his guilt before being put to death. Little or no resistance was offered to the mob by the officers at the jail.

Unanimously Approved.

City of Mexico, Dec. 22.—The railway consolidation bill, which was proposed by Minister of Finance Limantour, for the creation of a Mexican company to take over the holdings of the national lines of Mexico and the Mexican Central railway, has been unanimously approved by the chamber of deputies.

ISHMAEL OF THE CUTTER.

London Coster Declared to Be Last Remnant of World's Old Race of Wanderers.

London's outdoor man is the coster, according to Outing. He is the Ishmael of our gutters. A very jolly Ishmael, it is true, who is more than content to acknowledge the line of demarcation between himself and the true cockney. But, nevertheless, in a modified, twentieth century way, he is still the wild man whose hand is against every man's and every man's against his. He is probably the last remnant of the world's old race of wanderers—the last suggestion of the primitive man—left to the cities. He is to us town dwellers what the gypsy is to the countryside. His descent seems to spring from the same roving stock. And he is regarded, from a safe distance, with the same contempt by those who don't know him. His habits and his impulses still savor strongly of the days when tribe warred against tribe, and every man's arm was for himself and his clan. And although his pitch is below the curb, his caravan a barrow, and his beast of burden a Russian pony, a donkey, or himself, he is as free and as exclusive as any other lusty scion of the people who live under the skies. Ishmael he is, and Ishmael he chooses to remain. And the chances are ten to one that whoever goes a-fishing for information among the barrows will come back with an empty creel or a fine show of fisherman's tales. For your coster knows both how to keep silence and how to use his tongue picturesquely in defense of his jealously guarded traditions and the internal economies of his existence.

Oklahoma Church Habits.

While attending church at the country schoolhouse Saturday night, says the Elk City Record, we noticed a man standing up in the center of the room (just before the services began) "load" his pipe, take a few whiffs and then walk slowly out. Another gentleman carried a pitcher of water to the rostrum, gallantly smoking a cigarette, while a lady was adorned with a "swab" protruding from her mouth during the services.

RAILROADERS BARRED

Shippers' Association Wants None of Them in Ranks.

Indianapolis, Dec. 22.—Discovery has just been made by the officers of the Indiana Manufacturers and Shippers' association, recently organized to establish railroad reforms and do away with existing evils, that one of the best-known railroad managers in the state was seeking membership. This is taken to mean that the railroads are alarmed over the existence of the association and are anxious to have representatives within the organization that they may know just what is going on and what is contemplated. Aroused by their discovery, the officers of the association will examine their membership roll carefully and purge it of all names that carry the least bit of suspicion. A strong bar will be placed to keep out of the association all persons who may in any way be associated with the railroads. The membership of the association is growing by leaps and bounds, and it is thought that all prominent manufacturers and shippers in the state will be included by the time the legislature convenes. While the movement started among the manufacturers and shippers of the gas belt, it has spread over all Indiana.

Engineer Not in Asylum.

Laporte, Ind., Dec. 22.—The Baltimore & Ohio Railway company has entered a formal denial to the report that Tony Burke, engineer on the freight train that was in collision with a freight train at Woodville, Nov. 12, in which sixty-one persons were killed or burned to death, was confined in an insane hospital at Mineral Point, Wis. On the contrary, Mr. Burke is still under treatment for his injuries in the railway hospital at Garrett and is making satisfactory recovery. His mind is clear.

His Accounts Clear.

Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 22.—J. M. Stewart, the ticket agent at the Big Four for three years, who disappeared several weeks ago, has been heard from at Sacramento, Cal. He says that if there is anything wrong in his accounts he will make it right. The officials reported his accounts correct at the time he went away. No explanation has been given for his unannounced departure.

Disemboweled by Saw.

Laurel, Ind., Dec. 22.—Burt Raridan, an employe of the Laurel handle factory, was fatally injured by a cutoff saw. He was sawing scraps with a movable wood saw and the latter came loose from its fastenings while running at high speed and struck Raridan in the abdomen, disemboweling him.

DOCTORED THE MINUTES

Constitutional Convention in an Unseemly Scramble for Vacation.

Guthrie, Okla., Dec. 22.—The constitutional convention adjourned yesterday until January 3 after violating one of its most important rules and doctoring the official minutes to show that no irregularities had been committed. The clerks were unable to engross the county boundaries report before adjourning, but notwithstanding the fact that it was known to contain errors, Delegate Johnston of Perry moved that it be placed upon its third reading and final passage. With many members absent and a number voting against the motion, President Murray declared that the motion had carried by unanimous consent. The vote was taken by the raising of hands; which prevented the making of a record by the clerk showing how each member had voted.

The rules adopted by the convention proving that no provision of the constitution can be placed upon its third reading until it is correctly revised and engrossed unless by unanimous consent.

Rescue Work Delayed.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 22.—Hicks, the entombed miner at Bakersfield, will be rescued soon. The rescue party had to abandon the project of reaching Hicks underneath the car, and expect now to reach him over it. The man is so near that the workmen have actually touched him. Solid food was handed him. He says he is all right. A narrow passage is being built of timbers over the car and the man will be carried out through that. Hicks laughs and jokes constantly with the workmen. He seems very high-spirited, although not hysterical. The whole camp is grouped about the mouth of the tunnel to watch him when he comes out.

Secret Revealed by Death.

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 22.—The death of Nicolai De Reylan, who came here from Chicago some time ago, seeking health, revealed the fact that the deceased was a woman who had masqueraded as a man. Dr. Rowe, De Reylan's physician, says he is positive the corpse is that of De Reylan. He declares that no substitute could have directed the business correspondence with the Russian consulate and American bureau as De Reylan did. De Reylan was connected with the Russian consulate in Chicago, and is said to have a wife living there.

Being a thoughtful wife, she is naturally concerned for her husband's health, and when she sees him eating heartily of pie she reminds him: "Now, dear, you know very well that if you eat so much pie you will have another attack of indigestion. I cannot see why you insist upon eating it when you know it keeps you constantly suffering." "I would not eat it, my angel," he answers, helping himself to more, "were it not that the last time I did so I dreamed of you." Realizing that she is witnessing one of those sublime evidences of true affection of which we sometimes read, she smiles happily upon him and is silent.—Omaha Bee.

The Right Gift for a Man

Thos. W. Lytle Offers a Suggestion That is Sure to Please.

Nothing is much more perplexing than the question of what to get a man for Christmas, yet Thos. W. Lytle has a suggestion to offer that is very simple and satisfactory.

"If a man is a smoker," says Thos. W. Lytle "nothing will please him more than a box of good cigars. Mind, I say good cigars, cigars made to be smoked by those who know what fine tobacco really is, not cigars done up in silver foil, with gold bands, that are made for Christmas gifts only."

"In the many brands I carry I do not know one that I can recommend with more confidence than Wadsworth Bros.' Ghico. While not expensive, it is a cigar that is smoked by my best trade, lovers of a good smoke. I have already sold a good many boxes for Christmas gifts, and expect to sell many more, to those who want to get a gift for a man that will really please him, should be wise and buy their Ghicos now."

Enterprise

In Rushville there is manufactured a line of remedies known as the Raymond Remedies, the most important of these remedies is Raymond Cough Syrup.

Hargrove and Mullin one of the oldest and best known drug firms in Rushville are manufacturers and for ten years have put this cough syrup on the market.

In 1905 this firm sold 1800 bottles at their store besides what was sold at the stores over the country.
